Next 30 Days of Season 30

Announcements ChaoticLu May 3, 2023

The season of The Companion has already started, so as a good sidekick and your Player 2 on this journey, let me walk you through new features, Quests, news and more!

Asian and Pacific Islander Heritage month

This year we are excited to honor and celebrate Asian and Pacific Islander Heritage Month with several Quests. Ambassadors will be able to unlock XP through our featured category Quests and enjoy games such as Coffee Talk Episode 2 or Legend of Tianding!

Visit our Quests Page each week to enjoy our featured games for May and learn more about Asian and Pacific Islander Heritage Month by visiting Xbox Wire.

Our Missions are becoming Quests.

Starting this month, the Xbox Ambassadors Program will be using the term “Quests” instead of “Missions!”

Quests will work the same way that Missions always have. We’re making this change to align with other teams inside Xbox who use the term for similar activities such as Xbox Insiders Quests or Xbox Game Pass Quests as an example. You’ll see these changes reflected on our website and our communications with Ambassadors going forward.

Mental Health Awareness Month

For our Accessibility Quests this month we are focusing in on topics related to Mental Heath in support of Mental Health Awareness month. We’ve chosen this focus to help raise awareness of how some accessibility features can specifically help support players with disabilities in the mental heath space.

One of the reasons many of us love games is because gaming can transport us into other worlds and experiences and as content creators it’s important to realize that players need to be in control of their journey and making it an easy ride. It’s exciting to see games recognize the need to put players in control and as an example, you’ll see a Quest around trigger warnings & supporting players who want to skip cut scenes.

Go visit our Quests Page each week running through the month of May.
